22.5ct Champagne Gold Leaf - Product Data Sheet

22.5ct Champagne Gold Leaf is a genuine beaten gold alloy with a softer, paler tone than conventional yellow gold. It is intended for decorative gilding, restoration, architectural details, lettering and artistic work.

Property	Typical Information
Product	22.5ct Champagne Gold Leaf
Material	Genuine gold alloy leaf
Gold content	22.5 carat (nominal)
Appearance	Champagne gold - soft, warm, pale yellow tone
Form	Ultra-thin beaten metal leaf
Supply forms	Loose or transfer leaf, subject to specification
Typical sheet size	80 x 80 mm where supplied in standard books
Typical book quantity	25 leaves per book where supplied in standard books

Typical Applications

Decorative gilding on correctly prepared interior and exterior surfaces, including frames, architectural ornament, signs, lettering, restoration and artistic projects.

Application

Apply to a clean, dry and properly prepared substrate using a compatible gilding size. Lay the leaf once the size reaches the correct tack. Loose leaf is handled with traditional gilding tools; transfer leaf may be pressed from its carrier sheet.

Durability and Protection

Gold-rich leaf has good tarnish resistance, although alloying metals can affect long-term colour stability. Performance depends on exposure, preparation and application. Consider a compatible protective coating where service conditions require it.

Handling

The leaf is extremely thin and delicate. Handle in a clean, dry and draught-free area. Avoid direct finger contact with loose leaf and protect from moisture, grease, dust and strong air movement.

Storage

Store flat in the original closed packaging in a clean, dry area at normal room temperature. Protect from humidity, contamination, heat and physical damage.

Technical Note

Natural shade variation may occur between batches. Carry out a representative test before full application where colour matching, exterior durability or coating compatibility is critical.
